Press Highlights For Belinda Underwood

"...the emotional thrust of her vocals and the lyrical imagery of her original songs are the product of a seasoned creative mind."

- Don Heckman, L.A. Times

"Synchronize sultry overtones with an innate sense of jazz, accompanied with a multi level talent, and you have a moment well spent with Belinda Underwood. Seductive? Yes! and it works so well with her becoming, infectious nature to whomever is exposed."

- Karl Stober, Jazz Review Magazine

"Bass savvy, coupled with modern jazz song writing...a journey in today's jazz harmony with yesterday's rustic charms."

- Carmel DeSota, Lilith's Child Magazine
(Focused on Women in Music)

"Portland Oregon singer/bassist Belinda Underwood's first CD as a leader is one that sounds as if it were the result of a mature talent...she is a writer of haunting lyrics, some painfully romantic and others environmentally observational, that attract the listener's attention, so non-traditional and poetically written are they."

- Bill Donaldson, Jazz Improv Magazine

"... softly lyrical and intimate, sophisticated yet unassuming, contemplative but never ponderous...a very promising introduction to a young talent."

- Marty Hughley, The Oregonian
